DAYTON, Ohio, October 1, 1971 --- Some 3,000 persons including Dayton area juniors and seniors in high school and their parents will attend the annual University of Dayton College Night in the UD Arena, Wednesday, October 6, starting at 7:30 P.M.

Joining these young people interested in higher education in 1972 and 1973 will be their own high school counselors and representatives from over 100 universities and colleges throughout the midwest. The event is being co-sponsored by UD's Department of Admissions and the Catholic College Coordinating Circuit.

Besides the UD representation, which will include people from the Deans' offices of the University's four schools and academic department chairmen, university and college members of the Dayton-Miami Valley Consortium will have admissions directors and their staffs there.

Last year 93 universities talked to more than 2,000 high school students and their parents in the largest college recruiting event in Southwestern Ohio.

Brother Ralph Mravintz, Director of Admissions at UD, and his associate, Myron Achbach, are in charge of the proceedings. Call 229-4411 for information.
